

USPEST.ORG weather and climate driven models – Data Usage – Terms of Use

The data and other information available on the uspest.org website are subject to the conditions stated below.

Data (gridded, polygon, tabular, graphical) and Map Products. Data and map products may be freely reproduced and distributed by all users under a Creative Commons – Attribution 4.0 International (CC BY 4.0) license, enabling users to share and adapt the data for any purpose, as long as appropriate credit is given. Full terms of the Creative Commons – Attribution license are at: <https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by/4.0/legalcode>

When referring to the data and map products, the source must be clearly and prominently stated and include, at a minimum, our name, URL, and the date of data creation. For example:

USPEST.ORG, Oregon IPM Center, Oregon State University, <https://uspest.org>, created 10 May 2020.

Copyright and Ownership. All data and information presented through the website are protected by United States copyright laws and applicable international copyright treaties. USPEST.ORG, Oregon IPM Center, Oregon State University retains rights to ownership of the data and information.

No Warranty. All content and products on this web site is provided “as is,” without warranty of any kind, either express or implied. OSU and OIPMC is not responsible for data content or the use of the data.